Thursday - 26 January 1967

1. [REDACTED] GLC) Met with Robert Michaels, House Appropriations Committee staff, and briefed him on the function which the U.S. Geological Survey will perform as a reproduction facility for civilian maps utilizing material made available from Agency sources. This was done in connection with an upcoming budget request from the Department of Interior resulting from expenditures necessary to arrange for the handling of this material in accordance with security requirements. Michaels thanked me for giving him this background briefing.

Later in the day, I learned from Mr. Radlinski, of the Geological Survey, that Interior representatives had met with Michaels and were most appreciative of our giving him an advance briefing.
